

I am opposed to the expected ruling to ease ownership limits for media. Trying to find independent news reporting, balanced news reporting and accurate and unbiased news reporting is very difficult. By consolidating ownership of media the information available to the public will be limited. How else but through media can most people obtain their information about what is happening in the world?